PETERSBURG, April 16.

THE Admiralty has received Orders to keep Fourteen Ships of the Line, and five Frigates, in Readiness to put to Sea some Time next Month.

Stockholm, April 25. The Squadron equipping at Carelscroon will be ready to put to Sea in the Beginning of next Month; it consists of Twelve Ships of the Line, and five Frigates. The King has granted great Privileges to all Foreigners who shall set up Manufacturies in Pomerania.

Paris, April 9. The King holds frequent Conferences at Marli with the Cardinal and principal Ministers. The chief of the Subjects are said to be the Differences betwixt England and Spain, and the Affairs of the North.

Versailles, May 1. The Negociations which our M-----y has proposed to enter upon at London, are of such Importance, that instead of one M-----r there will be two sent at a Time, viz. M de Bussi du Plassi, who formerly manag'd the Interests of our Court there, before the Embassy of the late Count de Cambis, and M. de L'Etang, who was known to the World by the Negociation which he concluded at Peters burg after the Russians took Dantzick. Those two Gentlemen have both of them Places in the Secretary's Office. The former is already set out for England, and the latter will follow this Week. The Emperor will also send a Minister of Character to London, to second That to be made by those two Gentlemen, which do undoubtedly relate to an Accommodation betwixt Spain and Great-Britain. We are assured, that this important Affair is already on the Carpet, and that 'tis like to be attended with a happy issue.

Extract of a Private Letter from the Hague.

"The British Minister to the States General has, in several Discourses he has had with the Members of the Regency, tho' by way of Conversation only, intimated to them, that it was not without good Reason that his Court was so vigilant upon its own Coasts, and so active in the British Dominions; it having had certain Advices of an Enterprize formed by the Spaniards against Ireland, and that every Thing was ready to put this Project in Execution. That if indeed Spain alone shou'd make such an Attempt, his Britannick Majesty would have little to apprehend; but if some other Power should be assisting to her therein, the King his Master would in that Case be obliged to demand Succour from his Allies, and especially the 6000 Troops and the Men of War, stipulated in the Treaties subsisting between the British Court and their High Mightinesses. This Discourse will, it's believ'd, hasten the Orders for the Augmentation.

A private Letter from Vienna advises, 'That the Ministers of Great-Britain, and of their High Mightinesses, sollicit in Concert at the Imperial Court, that no longer Delay may be made in sending the Number of Troops into the Low Countries which his Imperial Majesty is by the Barrier Treaty obliged to keep on Foot there; but that hitherto they have receiv'd no positive Answer thereto, the Imperial Ministry giving all its Attention to preserve the Territories which his Imperial Majesty possesses in Italy, acting therein as though it was apprehensive that some Design was forming against them. Apprehensions of this Nature are certainly entertain'd by the Imperial Court, how ill soever they may agree with that extraordinary Confidence which seems to subsist between his Imperial Majesty and the Court of France, which has guarantied to him all his Italian Dominions, by the stipulations of the famous definitive Treaty of Vienna.

PRivate Letters from Paris, hint at a Piece of News, which is perhaps of too delicate a Nature, to merit an entire Belief, at its first Publication 'Tis intimated, that the Court of Versailles has discovered a secret Negociation that for these three Weeks past has been carrying on between the Courts of Great-Britain and Spain, without the Knowledge or Mediation of any Power whatsoever. The Queen of Spain, say they, provok'd to the last Degree, that France has absolutely abandoned her to grapple with a superior Power, and to see the Monarchy of Spain expos'd to the most terrible Strokes, has at length resolv'd to throw herself into the Arms of the Enemy; and not only that, but even to tye a Knot of Amity and Friendship between her and them, which may give the most Christain King as much Uneasiness for the Future, as that Prince's (unsufferable) Conduct has occasion'd to her for the Time past.---If her most Catholick Majesty should indeed take this Step, it will be acting up to the Italian Character with a Witness; the People of that Country being never content with such ordinary Pieces of Revenge, as generally pacify other Nations. The French, who naturally delight in War, and cannot remain long without some Action, giving Credit to this (at least but flying) Report, begin to fall very severely on the Cardinal's pacifick Character; 'but at the same Time think, that at least one of the high interested Powers, has used his Eminency very ill. Perhaps every true Briton will be ready to make very different Reflections on this Event, when it happens; and the sooner that be, the better for the Interest and Prosperity of our Trading Nation; there being no Power on Earth, whose Friendship is more valuable, and more to be desired by us, than that of his most Catholick Majesty. I am, &c

Paris, May 9 The Court has lately receiv'd an Expr from Madrid, and another from Stockholm; their Dispatch of which the Publick don't know a Tittle, have occasion' several Conferences between the King's Ministers. It is cu rently reported, that several Men of War will speedily sai from Brest; nevertheless, we don't hear that the Marquis d Antin has yet receiv'd Orders to repair thither.

Fro

From the Paris A la main, May 18.

Our Letters from Baſtia ſay, that the Bark a la Legere is gone to join the Zephir Man of War at St. Fiorenzo, in order to go together upon a Cruize after a Swediſh Ship, which they are told, is to land Warlike Stores in Corſica for the Rebels

They continue erecting Batteries in the Port of Calvi as if they apprehended a Deſcent there. This occaſions various Speculations. Some pretend that Theodore being now in England, after traverſing Germany and Holland, it is not impoſſible but that he may find Reſources there to enable him to raiſe new Troubles in Corſica. Several Gallies are equipping at Genoa for that Iſland.

They write from Malta, that the Grand Maſter purſuant to a Reſolution of his Council, has order'd ſix Knights of that Order to depart the Iſland: The Reaſon of their Baniſhment is, becauſe they are Free Maſons.

An Extract of a private Letter from the Hague.

The Attention of the Publick begins now to be divided between what has really happened in America, and the Events which are expected to happen in the North, where Affairs ſeem to be in a Criſis. The Swediſh Miniſtry have advanced too far towards a War, to retreat with Honour; and, on the other Hand, it hazards every Thing, if thro' Deſpair it imitates the Conduct of Cæſar when he paſs'd the Rubicon, and ſays Alea jacta eſt, ſeeing the Ruſſians are half as ſtrong again as the Swedes, not only in point of Numbers but likewiſe in the Quality of their Troops, which have been accuſtomed to Action, and inur'd to Fatigue; whereas the Swediſh Army conſiſts altogether of new Levies, amongſt whom are but few Officers that have been in the Field. Beſides all this, according to the Advices, even thoſe receiv'd from Stockholm, the Troops which have been ſent into Finland, have, as it were, already ſuffered a Defeat by the Rigour of the Winter, and the extreme Want of Proviſions. The Ruſſians, on the Contrary, who are uſed to a ſtrict Sobriety, have nevertheleſs Magazines which abound with every Neceſſary; and Carelia, the Province in which Sweden had Deſigns of beginning the War, by attacking Wybourg, is inhabited by ſcarce any beſides Soldiers. Altho' the utmoſt Caution of the Court of Ruſſia, which accuſes that Crown with having threatn'd it, by aſſembling a much greater Number of Troops upon the Frontiers than was neceſſary for their Defence in a Time of profound Peace, and when Ruſſia was engaged in a bloody and expenſive War, makes the ſame Preparations as tho' it expected to be attack'd every Moment, without being in the leaſt ſtopt by the flattering Propoſitions made to it for accomodating Matters with Sweden, or rather for preventing a Rupture. The Miniſtry of the Empreſs knows very well how to act in regard to the Intentions of the Court of Sweden, with which a certain Diſcovery has ſufficiently inſtructed it. All Advices from Poland and Vienna ſay too, that the Swediſh Miniſtry has in no ſort yet changed its Syſtem: which News ſeems to be confirm'd by that of its concluding a defenſive Alliance with the Porte, by the Mediation of France, but unfortunately for that Miniſtry (which ſhould be always look'd upon as diſtinct from the King,) the preſent Circumſtances of the Porte are not at all favourable to it.

Paris, May 21. The King, who has been ſlightly indiſpoſed with a Cold, is recovered. The Marquis d'Antin ſets out on the 27th for Breſt. They write from Provence, that the Royal Corſican Regiment which was in Garriſon at Antibes, had been guilty of great Diſorders there, had even committed ſeveral Robberies, and deſerted in Troops, and that ſome of them had been executed at Dravigan.

A great many People here pretend, that the Accommodation between the Courts of Spain and Great-Britain, will be concluded this Summer, and that the Negociation is already in great Forwardneſs; however, this wants Confirmation. It is reported that Preparations are making at Madrid for the Coronation of the Infant Don Philip as King of Corſica. The Magiſtrates of this Capital take all poſſible Care to prevent the Scarcity of Proviſions, which is likely to be the Conſequence of the bad Weather we have had: For this Purpoſe they are to bring over Bullocks from Ireland, and Sheep from Barbary.

LONDON, May 8.

We hear that the Merchants of this City are preparing a Petition to be preſented to his Majeſty, that he would be pleaſed to give Orders that a ſufficient Number of Men of War may cruize off St. Sebaſtian's, to prevent the Ships of this Nation being taken by the Spaniards, and carried into that Port, which has been frequently done by them, to the great Prejudice of the Trade of this Kingdom.

There are ſix Bomb Veſſels building, which are to be finiſhed with all Expedition.

" There is Advice from Breſt, that 21 Men of War were fitting out there, which would be ready to ſail in about three Weeks; one of which was launch'd on the 26 of April, named the Mars, of 76 Guns, a fine long Ship with her Stern perpendicular; 20 Sail from 60 to 70 Guns, Six to 700 Sailors and 100 Marines each; alſo one which they daily expected with Officers, from Rochford, for the ſaid Fleet, this has 40 Guns. There are beſides 13 more from 60 to 70 Guns, which would be ready in three Months, and one of 120 Guns was put on the Stocks, of 165 Feet Keel, and 53 Beam; alſo one other of the ſame Dimenſions building at Rochford, and one of 100 Feet Keel building at Thoulon. That there were about 5000 Sailors at Breſt, and they expected 10,000 more from Eaſt France, with a great Number of Marines. Admiral d'Antin was expected there laſt Week, to hoiſt his Flag on Board the Royal Dauphin of 76 Guns: That they give out the Fleet is ſoon to proceed to Lisbon. On the Wharff were 10 new large Mortars, and 11 Parcels of Shells, each Parcel about 40 Yards long and five Shells broad; the Shells ſeem'd to be upwards of 20 Inches Diameter, made up in Piles to a ſingle Row at Top. That there were alſo two Bomb Ketches fitting out, and a very great Number of Shipwrights, Ropers, Joyners, &c. and, in general, a very great Hurry to fit the Ships out with the utmoſt Expedition; and that there were ſome Dutch Ships with Timber, &c.

London, May 24. His Majeſty arrived ſafely and in good Health, at Helvoetſluys, on Saturday laſt early in the Morning.

They write from Hanover, That the Report continues of ſome Alliances that are to be negotiated during his Britannick Majeſty's ſtay there this Summer.

'Tis ſaid His Majeſty's ſtay at Hanover, will be as ſhort as poſſible; and that the Royal Palace at Kenſington, is order'd to be fitted up and got ready for the Reception of his Majeſty, by the Month of Auguſt next.

Scotia, where Mrs. Belliſle, *a Trading Woman, inform'd him, That the Indians miſunderſtood the Proclamation of War againſt Spain, and ſuppoſed it was a Declaration of War againſt France, and therefore they reſolved to take the firſt Engliſh Veſſel that came to trade there; and Mrs. Belliſle hearing of the Indians Deſign, went to them and told them that they were very much miſtaken, for the War was only with Spain, and adviſed them to do nothing againſt the Engliſh till they had firſt ſent to the Governor at Canada, to know his Mind in the Matter; and the Declarant underſtood the Indians had ſent an Expreſs to the Governor of Canada, and he had diſcouraged all Hoſtilities againſt the Engliſh, and aſſured the Indians that the French and Engliſh were in good Friendſhip. Since which the Indians came on board the Declarant's Scooner in great Numbers, and behaved very peaceable, ſo that he is not apprehenſive of any Danger at preſent of the Indians breaking Friendſhip with the Engliſh. NEW-YORK, July 28.

Wedneſday Morning laſt arrived here the Sloop John, Stephen Meſnard from Coracoa, who ſays that he was chas'd on Sunday laſt by a Spaniſh Privateer. When the Capt. firſt ſaw him (which was about two in the Afternoon and at about three Leagues to the Northward of Cape May) he was under a ſhort Sail; but when Capt. Meſnard came nearer he made more Sail, tack'd about and gave him chaſe till Dark, when the Capt. litt a Tar Bucket and putting it into a Tub ſent it a drift, and left the Privateer to follow it if he thought fit. She was a black Sloop and of about the Burthen of 80 Tons.

The ſame Afternoon arrived here His Majeſty's Ship the Squirrel, Capt WARREN, from before Auguſtine, but laſt from Carolina, whence he went in Queſt of the Privateer with whom Capt. Langdon engaged, but unfortunately miſs'd of him; and on Friday morning early Captain WARREN again ſail'd in Queſt of the Privateer who has long infeſted theſe Coaſts, and ſeveral Gentlemen of this Place are gone Voluntiers on board of Him. That He may meet with this bold Neighbour and give him due Correction, is the hearty Wiſh of all here.

The ſame Morning ſail'd under the Convoy of the Squirrel the Sloop Mary, having on board 11 Lieutenants, 11 Serjeants and Twelve Hundred Fire Arms, Ammunition, Tents and Money, &c. for Virginia, Maryland and North Carolina.

Capt. Langdon, our Privateer, and Capt. Hall ſailed from Carolina the 11th Inſtant on another Cruize. He engaged the Privateer mentioned in our laſt for upwards of four Hours ſhe had 14 CatriageGuns and 250 Men, but the Wind blowing very hard and a head Sea, Capt. Hall could do but little, and they could not board her; but it is ſuppos'd they had killed ſeveral of her Men.
